

Chefalos for Crossnore

Six years ago, the Chevalo Family gave up Christmas! No tree, no decorations, no fancy ham dinner, and especially no gift exchange. Instead they decided to forego the holiday and set out to enjoy one another, have new experiences, and find adventure.

While their trips have taken them around the globe, this year, they have decided to hike to the top of Mt. Kilimanjaro, a dormant volcano in Tanzania. After numerous discussions, they also wanted to be able to support the causes and charities that they care about most.

Gerry (the Dad) is a criminal defense attorney, avid outdoorsman, and family man who enjoys hiking, swimming, golf, ice-fishing and gardening. Shenandoah (the Mom) is an author and children's advocate who finds healing on the hiking trails, enjoys time with her mini-schnauzer Bernie, loves spending time with her family, genealogy, and helping to plan a new course for children in foster care. Sophia (the Daughter) is a high school student who enjoys running, golf, sewing, anything vintage, art, and photography.

They are delighted to take on the challenge of Mt. Kilimanjaro while raising awareness for children in foster care and funds for Crossnore Children's Home & School.
